Why do Catholics do that??

How did Roman Collars Become the Priestly Uniform?

Priests wore cassocks and various collars until in 1624 the church concluded that the time had come for stricter guidelines for clerical garb because collars had grown into a major fashion statement. The fancier the collar, the wealthier the owner did not stay true to the church's teachings. The Church teaches that a priest is Christ's representative on Earth, and since a priest is consecrated to God, he should embrace material poverty as did our Lord. So, in 1624, Pope Urban VIII forbade ornamentation or lace, and the Church regulated the fashionable collars to simple ones. Today, we are familiar with the most common form of this simple collar: the "Roman Collar", with its simple white square.

Special Collection for Missions:

The weekend of July 20-21, the Diocese of Jefferson City will hold a special collection to support to our brothers and sisters in need, including in the home dioceses of the mission priests serving us. Envelopes have been issued with the Catholic Missourian this week. However, feel free to use any envelope as long as you mark that it is for this collection. Checks should be made out to our Church with Missions Special Collection as memo.

"The Diocese of Jefferson City has built classrooms for the kids whereas they did not even have chairs or blackboards...Life is not as people think it is everywhere."

—Fr. Joseph Luzidana

Associate pastor of our Cathedral of St. Joseph; ordained in the Archdiocese of Kampala, Uganda
